To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in reference to Terry Mikeska, who, in my opinion is a talented and capable musician; he is also experienced in a variety of performance situations.

For example, among my responsibilities is that of Producer for an annual Christmas show which is taped in our studio. I was uncertain as to where I was going to locate a pianist to provide accompaniment for the performers, as well as back-up music for other portions of the show; then I met Mr. Mikeska.

He quickly understood my needs and offered several creative ideas. On the day the show was to be taped, Terry arrived at our studio attired in appropriate formal wear and performance-ready. That was two years ago; we look forward to working with Terry for many more years to come.

I can easily recommend Mr. Mikeska, who has the ability to tailor his considerable talents to suit the situation in which he's performing.

I wish him continued success with his musical career.

Sincerely,
